

Emerging Insurance Professionals

To connect, engage and empower the next generation of insurance professionals and leaders

About Us

Our aim is to help emerging insurance professionals to enjoy the workplace.

We want to give emerging insurance professionals the chance to develop, network and learn with other likeminded professionals in our industry. We are committed to providing opportunities to emerging professionals that aren't always available to less experienced colleagues under the age 35.

Our group will provide social, education and charitable events for everyone to get involved in, specifically tailored towards people in the industry our age and experience.

Please feel free to get in touch with any members of the committee using our contact details on the Leeds Institute website here.

Social

We aim to provide networking opportunities to emerging professionals that aren't always available to us, at this stage of our careers. These will include chances to meet similar professionals in our industry and build your network.

Our target is to provide simple and inviting social events that allow all attendees to feel comfortable and welcome when attending. The term networking often scares people, but our events will be designed to make this as relaxing as possible.

Education

We intend to run a diverse and engaging set of events designed to help emerging professional's progress their careers. This will include providing assistance with qualifications, developing key business skills and helping increase commercial awareness.

If there are any particular topics or educational subjects you would like to see and attend, please suggest these to us. We are always happy to receive feedback and ideas.

Charities

We want to promote giving back and make a difference to people and charities in the Leeds area. As a group of young professionals, we believe that we can help have an effect on the area we work and live in. We will do so by providing insight about and promotion of local charities, as well as events to help raise money and learning events.

If there are any charities that are particularly close to you, that you would like us to help support, please get in touch.
